LIBRARY

To the Christian Reader.

THE great errand of our coming into this world, is but to prepare our selvs for a better. Which being the cheif scope and aim of this Manual, I cannot but commend his pious intention, who formerly presented it to publick view. But, observing a great want of that Impression; besides many literal imperfections, omissions and misquotations of Holy scriptures therein, and generally so great a want of that care and exactneſs which was due to any piece of him, to whom it claim'd relation, and which made the child ſo unlike the Father, I counſelled this Second Edition of it, aſſuring my ſelf that it would be an acceptable ſervice to the Church of God, and not alitle ingage the world in a reverend eſtimation of this holie Prelate, who not only taught them the way to heaven by his incomparable Sermons, but alſo aſſiſted them in it by his Example and Devotions.

It hath been too great a fault in all ages, to wrap up their drugs in gold, and to

to vent falſ wares under glorious titles, impoſing on the world, and on famous Authors many broken and imperfect Reliques.

That this Reuerend Father hath ſuffered ſomwhat by this falſ play, it too notorious in the world: and in the former Impreſsion of this Manual there were ſom crude additions, which, though not juſtifiable by any authentick evidence or Remain of his, were yet impos'd on him and us, and dar'd to call him Maſter.

Theſe being hence remanded to their proper place of ſilence and obſcuritie, I give you this as his genuine iſſue: Which I am the rather induced to believe ſo, not onely by the internal arguments, the ſpirit and genius, the method and pietie thereof, but alſo, the external teſtimonie and conveighance of it to us, as His, under the fair hand of his Amanuenſis; from which collated with another Manuſcript, and that in print, I give you this corrected.

That it was conceived and uſed by him in his ordinarie Viſitation of the Sick, when he was Vicar of St. Giles Creeplegate, though I take for no good Topick to gain your entertainment of it

it by; yet this perſwaſion it may happily beget, that all the buſineſs of a Pariſh-Prieſt is not confined to the Pulpit; but that there is other buſineſs, if the people could think on it, wherein to imploy men of that Profeſſion: which if ſo wel attended as it ought, we ſhould not hear of ſo many ſcandalous complaints againſt a lazie Clergie, nor be ſo much infeſted by ſacrilegious intruders into our Sacred Office.

Your pardon, if I tell you what I mean, not in mine own, but his expreſſions, who knew better what belonged to the Court of conſcience:

I take it to be an Error, to think the fruits of Repentance, and the worth of them, to be a matter any common man can skil of wel enough: needs never ask S. John, or S. Paul, what he ſhall do; knowe's what he ſhould do as well as S. Paul, or S. John either: And that it is not rather a matter, wherein wee need the counſel and direction of ſuch as are profeſſed that way. Truely it is neither the leaſt, nor the laſt, part of our learning to be able to give answer and direction in this point. But therefore laid aside and neglected by us because not sought after by you. Therefore not studied, but by very few quia nemo nos interrogat, because it tis grown out of rrqueſt quite.

We have learn'd, I know not where, a new, a ſhorter courſe, which fleſh and blood better likes of: To paſs the whole courſe of our life, and, in the whole courſe of our life, not to be able to ſet down, where, or when, or what we did, when we did that which we

we call Repenting: What fruits there came of it; what those fruits might be worth. But even a little before our death, (and as litle as may be) not til the world have given us over, then, lo, to come to our Quid faciemus? to ask, What we shal do? when wee are able to do nothing: And then must one come, and (as we call it) speak comfortably to us that is minister to us a little Divinitie Ladanum, rather stupefactive for the present, then doing any sound good, and so take our leavs to go meet with with ira ventura.

This way, this fashion of Repenting Saint John knew it not; it is far from his fructus dignos; S. Paul knew it not; it is far from his opera digna. And I can say little to it, but I praie God, it deceiv us not. It is not good trying conclusions about our souls.

See Bishop Andrews's Eight Sermon of Repentance and Fasting.

This I take for so fair an item to a tender and pious Christian, as I doubt not of diverting him therby from deferring the making of his accompts even with heaven, til the cross or Bed of sickness call upon him. Sure,

that's that's no time, or place to conteſt with two ſuch Enemies, as are Infirmities and Sins: and an Age is too ſhort a time to provide our ſelvs in for Eternitie.

With this Proteſt and Caveat againſt this Unchriſtian courſe and faſhion of the world, I commend This to you as your Vade mecum; and as your faithful friend and Counſeller. Which, though it ſpeak in ſpecial to the Sick, will be found upon ſerious thoughts to be ſerviceable to all eſtates and conditions whatſoëver, whether in Sickneſs or Health, Proſperitie or Adverſitie; making in us

ſuch

such deep impresses of the Divine Excellencie, and our Humane Frailtie, as must needs force us from the copweb comforts of This, to the desire of enjoying those more solid and immutable in a better World, in the Expressions and with the Longings of the Roial Prophet, My soul is a thirst for God, yea even for the living God: when shall I come to appear before the presence of God! Psal. 42. 2.

I need not minde you of the reading of the Psalms after the Old Translation of the Liturgie. For, besides that there was no o- ther

ber then in being, the constant use of those Expressions, to which the Church was so habituated in her dailie Offices, had made them so familiar and known to all, that any other reddition of them might have been taken for the greatest injurie and invasion that could possibly have been made upon Devotion.

One presumtion I shall promise my self your pardon of, My affixed Titles and Inscriptions. They being wholly designed out of charitie; for the better use and service of the Many; who, not being able to digest and apply what is given in gross, groſs, may under theſe ſpecial and diſtinct Heads finde matter broader for their Meditations and devotions according to their ſeveral exigencies.

The forms of Morning and Evening Praier, being very lame and broken in the former Edition, I give you here complete and perfect. To which I have added, as the Crown and complement of all our Services, His Devotions for the Holie Communion; all tranſlated out of the Greek Copie of His Amanuenſis. You will need no other reaſon of the addition of this laſt laſt, when I ſhal tell you, that (beſides that I finde it in Latin annexed with the Manual for the Sick) the Participation of that Sacred Myſterie is the moſt proper companion for perſons in that condition, as being the Viaticum of the Soul, and a Pledg of the Reſurrection.

I ſhall add no more, but the promiſe of my praiers for a bleſſed improvement of this intended for your good and a deſire of Yours for him, who accompts himſelf happie in nothing more then the Praiers of Chriſtian peole, as the higheſt obli-

General Conſiderations of the Mortalitie of Man.

WHat man is he that liveth, and ſhall not ſee death; Pſal. 89.48.

It is appointed to men once to die. Hebr. 9.27.

I am a stranger with [illegible] a sojourner, as all my fathers were. Psal. 39. 14.

Here we have no continuing Citie. Hebr. 13. 14.

The night commeth, when no man can work. S. John 9. 4.

If the tree fall toward, the South, or toward the North, in the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be. Eccles. 11. 3.

Comfortable

Comfortable Sentences to be used to the [illegible] partie.

THe mountains may remove, and the hils may fall down, but my mercie shal not depart from thee, nor the covenant of my peace come to nothing, saith the Lord, that hath compassion one thee. P. Isa. 54.10.

Heaven and earth shal pass, but my word shal not pass. S. Mat. 24.35.

All the promises of God are in Him Yea and Amen. 2 Cor. 1.20.

In whom we have most great and precious promises, that we should be partakers of the Divine nature. 2 S. Pet. 1. 4.

I have heard Ephraim lamenting thus, Thou hast corrected me, and I was chastised, as an untamed heifer.

Convert thou me, and I shal be converted: For thou art the Lord my God.

Surely, after that I had converted, I repented: I smote upon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea even confounded, because I did bear the reproch of my youth.

Since I ſpake to him, I ſtill remembred him: therefore my bowels are troubled for him: I will ſurely have Compaſſion on him (ſaith the Lord.) P. Jerem. 31.18,19,20.

I will viſit their offences with the rod, and their ſin with ſcourges: Nevertheleſs my mercie will I not utterly take from him; nor ſuffer my truth to fail. Pſal. 89.32.

My ſon, refuſe not the chaſtening of the Lord, neither be grieved with his correction.

For the Lord corre-ſteth him whom He loveth; even as the Father doth the child, in whom, for all that, he delighteth. Pro. 3. 11, 12.

Behold, bleſſed is the man, whom God correcteth; therefore refuſe not thou the Chaſtening of the Almightie.

For He maketh the wound and bindeth it up; He ſmiteth, and His hands make whole again.

He ſhall deliver thee in ſix troubles, and in the ſeventh the evil ſhal not touch thee. Job 5. 17, 18, 19.

Forget not the conſolation lation that ſpeaketh to you as unto children,

My ſon deſpiſe not the chaſtening of the Lord; neither faint when thou art corrected of Him.

For whom the Lord loveth he chaſteneth; and ſcourgeth everie ſon whom he receiveth.

If you indure chaſtening, God offereth himſelf unto you, as to a ſon: for what ſon is he whom the father chaſteneth not?

If therefore ye be without corection, whereof all are partakers, then are ye baſtards, and not ſons.

Moreover, we have had the Fathers of our bodies, who corrected us, and yet we gave them reverence, ſhould wee not much rather be in ſubjection to the Father of ſpirits, that wee might live,

For they, verily, for a few days, chaſtened us after their own pleaſure; but he chaſteneth us for our profit, that wee might bee partakers of His holineſs.

Now no chaſtening, for the preſent, ſeemeth joious, joyous, but grievous: yet afterwards it bringeth the quiet fruit of righteousness to them who are thereby exercised,

Wherefore lift up the hands that hang down, and the weak knees. Heb. 12. 5,6,7, 8,9, 10,11,12.

And ye now are in sorrow, but I will see you again, and your hearts shal rejoice; and your joy shal none be able to take from you. S. John 16. 22.

For a little while have I forsaken thee, but with great compassion will I gather thee,

For

For a moment, in mine anger, I hid my face from thee, but with everlasting mercie will I have compassion on thee, saith the Lord thy Redeemer. P. Isa. 54.7,8.

Modicum & videbitis me. S. John 16.16,

Blessed is the man whom thou chastisest, O Lord, and teachest him in Thy law;

That Thou maiest give him rest in the days of evil. Psal. 94.12,13.

But, when we are judged, wee are chastned of Thee, that wee should not be condemned with the world. 1 Cor. 11 32.

They

They that ſow in tears, ſhall reap in joy. Pſal. 126.6.

The Lord hath chaſtened and corrected me, but he hath not given me over unto death. Pſal. 118.18.

My brethren, count it exceeding joy, when ye fall into divers afflictions:

Knowing that the trial of your faith bringeth forth patience:

And let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be complete, intire, lacking nothing. S. Jam. 1. 2,3,4.

Bleſſed are they that mourn, mourn, for they ſhal be comforted. S. Mat. 5. 4.

When I am weak, then am I ſtrong. 2 Corinth. 12. 10.

Thou, Lord, upholdeſt all ſuch as are falling; and lifteſt up thoſe that be down. Pſal. 145. 14.

Thou healeſt the broken in heart, and giveſt medicine to heal their ſicknes. Pſal. 147. 3.

My fleſh and my heart faileth; but be Thou the ſtrength of my heart, and my portion for ever. Pſal. 73. 25.

As mine outward man doth doth wear, and decay, ſo let mine inward man renew daily.

O let this light affliction, which will quickly be over, cauſe unto me a far more excellent and eternal weight of glorie. 2 Cor. 4 16, 17.

Make

Make you friends of the unrighteous Mammon; that, when you must hence, they may recieve you into everlasting Tabernacles. S. Luke. 16.9.

Zacheus stood forth and said unto the Lord, Behold Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor, and if I have taken any thing from any man, by false accusation, I restore him four-fold. S. Luke. 19.8.

Propo-

Propoſitions and Inferences to be made to the ſick.

Concerning the Wiſdom and Providence of God in the ordering of all afflictions in general, and this in ſpecial.

1 YOu are perſwaded that no ſickneſs, or croſs, commeth, by chance, to any.

2. But you beleeve, that it is God who ſendeth them, without whoſe providence they fall not on us.

3. You

3. You acknowledg God to be moſt wiſe, and to ſuffer nothing to befall us, but when it is expedient it ſo ſhould.

4. Therefore, God having ſent this His viſitation to you at this time, that it is expedient for you thus to be ſick.

Say,

I know, O Lord, that Thy judgments are juſt, and that Thou of very faithfulneſs haſt cauſed me to be troubled, Pſal. 119. 75.

Concerning

Concerning the fatherlie Affection and Love of God.

1 YOu know and confeſs, that God to all, but to Chriſtian men eſpecially, carrieth the affection of a Father toward His children.

2. You know alſo, that a Father, whether he make much of his child, or whether he chaſten him, continueth a Father in both; and loveth him in the one, no leſs then in the other.

3. Think the ſame of God

God, as touching your ſelf: that, while He gave you good days, He loved you; and that now He ſendeth you ſom evil, He loveth you alſo; and would not have ſent this evil, but to be a cauſ unto you of a greater good; that, being called home thereby you might bee at peace with Him.

Say

Before I was troubled, I went wrong: but now ſhal I learn Thy Word. Pſalm 119.67.

Concerning

Concerning the Patience and thankfulneſs required in the ſick.

YOu are not onely to take it patiently, (I held my peace, and opened not my mouth, becauſe it was Thy doing,) Pſal. 39. 9. It tis the Lord let Him doe what ſeemeth good in His eyes. 1 Sam. 3. 18.

2. But even to give Him thankes for it, as for a wholeſom medicin:

The Lord hath given, and the Lord hath taken away: as it pleaſeth the Lord ſo is it com to paſs: Bleſſed ſed be the Name of the Lord Job. 1.21.

I will take this cup of ſalvation, and give thankes to the Name of the Lord. Pſal. 116.12.

3. Eſpecially, for that wee, in the time of our health forgetting Him yet He is ſo merciful, that He giveth us not over with the world: but for all we have oft grieved His Holie Spirits and fallen from grace, He viſiteth us again, and offereth it afreſh unto us.

4. That, if His will had not been to ſhew mercie by this chaſtiſement, ment, He could & would have ſuddenly taken you away with a quick deſtruction; and not given you this time to bethink yourſelf, and to ſeek and ſue to Him for grace.

Say,

When I am judged, I am chaſtened of the Lord, that I might not be condemned with the world. 1 Corinth. 11. 32.

Gods very puniſhment is a part of His mercie. Pſal. 89. 32.

It is a great mercie of the Lord, that we are not ſuddenly conſumed. Lament. 3. 22.

For giving you a time and ſpace. Revel. 2. 21.

O tarrie thou the Lords leaſure, beſtrong, and He ſhall comfort thine heart, and put thou thy truſt in the Lord. Pſal. 27. 16.

O caſt thy burthen upon the Lord, and He ſhall refreſh thee, and ſhall not ſuffer the righteous to fail for ever. Pſal. 55. 23.

O put your truſt in Him alway, yee people: Pour out your hearts before Him; for God is our hope. Pſal. 62. 8.

He will not alway be chiding, neither keepeth He His anger for ever. Pſal. 103. 9.

In

In His wrath He will remember mercie. P. Hab. 3.2.

Heavineſs may indure for a night, but joy will come in the morning. Pſal. 30.5.

For a little while have I forſaken thee, but with great compaſſion will I gether thee.

For a moment in mine anger I hide my face from thee, but with everlaſting mercie have I had pittie on thee, ſaith the Lord thy Redeemer. P. Iſa. 54.7,8.

Concerning the Contrition and Repentance of the ſick.

DO you acknowledg your ſelf not to have lived ſo wel as you ought? but to have ſinned, don amiſs, and dealt wickedly?

Do you call to mind the years of your life ſpent amiſs in the bitterneſs of your ſoul?

Do you deſire to have your mind illuminated by God, touching thoſe ſins you never knew; or which you once knew, but but have now forgotten; that you may repent of them.

' Do you desire to feel greater sorrow in your soul, for your sins committed than you do? ' Would you be glad if you did feel it? ' And are you grieved that you feel it not? that you are no more grieved?

Be there, or is there any special sin, that doth lie heavie on your conscience, for the which you need or would require the benefit of private Absolution?

Say,

Thou with rebukes doſt chaſten man for ſin, and makeſt his beautie conſume as a Moth fretting a garment. Pſal. 39. 12.

There is no health in my fleſh by reaſon of Thy wrath: neither is there any reſt in my bones, by reaſon of my ſin. Pſal. 38. 3.

Lord be merciful unto me: Heal my ſoul, for I have ſinned againſt Thee. Pſal. 41. 4.

Lord, I confeſs my wickedneſs, and am ſorrie for my ſin. Pſal. 28. 18.

I call to mind the miſpent years of my life in the bitterneſs

terness of my soul. P. Isa. 38.15.

My misdeeds have prevailed against me: O be Thou merciful unto my sin. Psal. 65.3.

For Thy Names sake, O Lord, be merciful unto my sin, for it is great. Psal. 25. 10.

O remember not the offenses and frailties of my youth; but, according to Thy mercie, think Thou upon me, O Lord, for Thy Goodness. Psal. 25.6.

Namely, O Lord, and specially in ——— be merciful unto me.

Herein the Lord be merciful unto His servant.

2 Kings 5. 18.

O Lord, lay not —— to my charge. Acts 7, 60.

If Thou, Lord, be extreme to mark what is don amiss, O Lord, who may abide it? Psal. 130. 3.

O enter not into judgment with Thy servant: for no flesh is righteous in Thy sight. Psal. 143. 2.

My confusion is daily before me, and the shame of my face hath covered me. Psal. 44. 16.

My heart is disquieted within me, and the fear of death is fallen upon me.

*Fearfulness and trembling are come upon me, and an horible dread hath over-overwhelmed me. Psalm. 55. 4, 5.

The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a contrite heart; and will save such as are of an humble spirit. Psal. 34. 17.

A broken and contrite heart, O Lord, wilt Thou not despise. Psal. 51. 17.

Repent you of these your sins?

That is,

1. Have you a purpose to judg your self for them if you live? 1 Cor. 11. 31.

2. And to inflict upon yourself punishment, for committing them, according as you shall be directed? 2 Cor. 7. 11. Levit. 5. 18.

3. Are you resolved, if God send you life hereafter, to amend and live more carefully? and to avoid both those means and occasions that may provoke you to sin again? and those signs and marks which testifie you delight in it?

4. Do you holily promise thus much in the presence of God, His grace aiding you?

5. Do you desire, if God send you health again, gain, to be specially put in mind therof?

Turn us then, O God our Saviour, and let Thine anger cease from us. Psal. 85. 4.

Concerning the Belief of the sick person.

BEleive you the Christian Creed, or Confession of our most Holie Faith, once delivered to the Saints?

Beleive you that you cannot be saved, except you did beleive it?

Are you glad in your soul, ſoul, and do you give God heartie thanks, that in this Faith you were born, have lived in it, and now ſhall die in the ſame?

Do you yourſelf deſire, and do you wiſh us to deſire at the hands of God, that this Faith may not fail you, until the hour, and in the hour of death?

If your ſenſe fail you, or if the pain of your diſeaſe, or weakneſs otherwiſe, ſo work with you, as it ſhall happen you with your tongue to ſpeak ought otherwiſe wise than this your Faith or Religion would, do you renounce all such words, as none of yours? and is it your will, we account of them as not spoken by you?

Is there in your mind any scruple, touching any matter of Faith or Religion?

Say,

Lord, I believe, help Thou mine unbelief. S. Mark 9. 24.

Concerning

Concerning the ſick parties Forgiving offenders againſt him.

DO you forgive them, that any manner of way have offended you, as freely as you would be forgiven at Gods hand?

Do you likewiſe deſire of God, that He would forgive them?

That amends which they are bound to make you, in that they have offended you, are you content to remit them alſo?

Are you willing that ſo

so much be shewed them, from you, that you have forgiven them freely, and fully, and desire God to do the like?

Say,

Father forgive them: they knew not what they did. S. Luke 23. 34.

O Lord, lay not these sins to their charge. Acts 7. 60.

Concerning the sick parties Desire of Forgiveness from them whom he hath offended.

YOur own self living in the world, it cannot be but some you have have offended, Do you desire that all such, as you have offended, would pardon and forgive you?

Do you remember or call to mind any person or persons in special, whom you have so offended?

Will you that so much be signified to them, in your name, that you desire them to forgive you?

Inasmuch as the offenses against the Seventh Commandment of getting any children by the act of adulterie committed with the wife of another other man; and againſt the Eighth Commandment, touching mens goods; and againſt the Ninth, touching mens credits or good names; are not by God forgiven, unleſs reſtitution be made to the parties wronged, Are you readie and willing to reſtore, and make ſatisfaction to ſuch as you have wronged, in thruſting in a child begotten by you, likelie to deprive the true children of the partie, & begotten by him, of a childs part and portion? and to ſuch as you have wronged in their goods?

goods? and to satisfie those whom you have any way touched in their good name? and that without all fraud or delay?

Can you call to mind any persons in particular, whom you have so offended?

A Praier

A Prayer to be used by the Priest, begging pardon of his own unworthiness and acceptance of his Devotions for the sick.

O Lord, it is a great presumption, that one sinner should dare to commend another to Thy Divine Majestie; especially, the greater, the less: and who would not fear to undertake it? But Thy Commandment it is, by Thy Holie Apostle, When any is sick, that the Priests should be called for: that they should pray for the sick partie, and and that their praiers Thou wilt receive; and save and forgive the sins of the partie so praied for.

And now behold, O Lord, we that are no way meet, but unworthie, utterly unworthie, to sue for ought for our selves, charitie and compassion so binding us, are enforced to become suitors to Thee for others.

Even, O Lord, for this Thy servaant, readie to depart this world.

To Thee we hope, to Thee we desire, to Thee we intreat and pray in all meek manner, and even

even from the bottom of our hearts.

O Lord, that, which justly Thou mightst denie to our unworthiness, denie not, we beseech Thee, to Thine own gracious goodness.

O Lord, forgive us our sins, our great and grievous sins, oft and many times committed; long and many years most wretchedly continued; so that we may be meet to pray for others; that so we may make our praise unto Thee, in an acceptable time.

Graciously look upon our our afflictions.

Pitifully behold the ſorrows of our hearts.

Mercifully forgive the ſins of Thy people.

Favorably with mercy receive our praiers.

Both now and ever vouchſafe to hear us, O Chriſt.

Graciouſly hear us, O Chriſt.

Graciouſly hear us, O Lord Chriſt.

Good Lord deliver h.

Deliver h. O Lord, from all danger and diſtreſs; from all pains and puniſhments, both bodilie and ghoſtlie. Amen.

As Thou didſt deliver Noah from the Flood;
ſo ſave and deliver h.
Lot from the fire of Sodom;
ſo ſave and deliver h.
Iſaac from preſent death;
ſo ſave and deliver h.
Job from all his tentations;
ſo ſave and deliver h.
Moſes from the hand of Pharaoh;
ſo ſave and deliver h.
Daniel from the Lions den;
ſo ſave and deliver h.
Jonas from the belly of the Whale;
ſo ſave and deliver h.

And,

And, as Thou haſt delivered Thy bleſſed Saints & Servants from all their terrors and torments;

ſo deliver h. ſoul, and receive it to Thy mercie.

We ſinners do beſeech Thee to hear us, good Lord.

That it may pleaſe Thee to remember h. with the favor Thou beareſt unto Thy people, and ſo viſit h. with Thy ſalvation.

We beſeech Thee to hear us, good Lord.

That it may pleaſe Thee to ſave and deliver

h. ſoul from the power of the enemie, leſt, as a Lion, he devour it, and tear it in pieces, if there be none to help.

We beſeech Thee to hear us, good Lord.

That it may pleaſe Thee to be merciful, and to forgive all h. ſins and miſdeeds, which by the malice of the Devil, or by h. own frailtie h. hath at any time of h. life committed againſt Thee.

We beſeech Thee to hear us, good Lord.

That it may pleaſe Thee not to lay to h. charge, what in concupiſcence of the eie, pride of

of life, vanitie or superfluitie h. hath committed againſt Thee.

We beſeech Thee to hear us, good Lord.

That it may pleaſe Thee not to lay to h. charge what in the fierceneſs of h. wrath, or in the eagerneſs of an angrie ſpirit he hath committed againſt Thee.

We beſeech Thee to hear us, good Lord.

Thy Holie Church, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

An humble recognition of humane frailtie, and a deprecation of falling from God.

IN the midst of life, we are in death: of whom then may we seek for succor, but of Thee, O Lord, who, for our sins, art most justly displeased with us?

Yet, O Lord most Holie, O Lord most mightie, O Holie and most merciful Father, deliver us not over to the bitter bitter pains of eternal death.

Thou knoweſt, Lord, the ſecrets of our hearts; ſhut not up againſt us the ears of Thy mercie; but ſpare us, O Lord, moſt Holie, O Lord moſt mightie, O immortal and moſt merciful father.

A Con-

A Confession of sins according to the branches of the Decalogue.

I.

I Have touching Thee, O Lord, been full of roving imaginations an evil thoughts.

I have not studied to seek and know Thee, as I ought.

Knowing Thee, I have not glorified Thee, nor given thanks to Thee accordingly.

I have doubted of Thy promises, and not trusted to Thy help.

I have made flesh mine arm, and hoped for proſperitie from man, rather than from Thee.

I have not performed the dutie of Invocation with that reverence I ought.

I have not been thankful : ſpicially not for Thy chaſtiſements.

II.

I have not worſhipped The in-ſpirit and trueth.

I have drawn near to Thee with my lips, but my heart hath been far from Thee.

I have been more careful of the outward ceremonial part of Thy worſhip, then of the inward

ward and spiritual.

III.

I have not with due regard taken Thy Name into my mouth.

I have with rash oaths and eager execrations oft abused it.

I have not given occasion to others to sanctifie Thy Name: but have caused it to be evil spoken of, through mine evil dealing.

I have not duely regarded and reverenced those things whereon Thy Name is imprinted.

IV.

I have not to Thy Sabbath or Sanctuarie brought that care which I ſhould.

I have not ſpared to abſent my ſelf from Thy Holie Aſſemblies, without ſufficient cauſe.

I have not ſpent the dayes aſſign'd to Holie exoercíſes, upon them chiefly; but have in them too much intended mine own private buſineſs.

I have been content in them with the uſe of the Meanes alone, without any practiſe at all.

V.

I have not ſo reverently ſpoken, nor ſo dutifully carried my ſelf toward toward some whom Thou hast placed over me, as was meet I should.

I have not so carefully prayed for them, as was requisite.

I have not opposed to them, who unreverently in terms used them.

Chiefly those who have had me in government touching my soul,

VI.

I have not wished or provided for the good of my neighbor as I should, but rather maligned, been angrie, and quarelled with them;

and sought revenge upon everie light injurie.

I have not had that compassion on the poor that I should; nor ministred to their necessities.

I have not defended them against the wrongs of others, as I might.

I have not rejoiced in the good success of my neighbor; but envied his welfare.

VII.

I have not possessed my vessell in holines and honor; nor preserved it from pollution, as the Temple of God should be.

I have

I have suffered my phancie to wander licentiously.

Mine ears and tounge I have not kept, as I should.

I have not eschued the occasions of lust, nor made the covenant with mine eies that I should.

I have not brought under my bodie, nor kept it in subjection with such abstinence as I should.

I have more studiously, and with more cost intended my flesh then my spirit.

VIII.

I have not reckoned godlineſs gain: nor been content with my eſtate but wiſhed an higher.

I have not been ſo exact in paying and dealing with thoſe I have dealt withall, as in juſtice I was bound.

I have by undue means interverted, to my uſe, that which was not mine.

I have not of that, whereof I had more than enough, been willing to part with, to the relief of the needie.

IX.

I have not been ſo ſtudious of ſpeaking the trueth, as I ſhould.

I have

I have been desirous to seem and to be reputed more then I was.

I have not had that care of the good name of my brother, I was bound.

I have not so hated flatterie, as I should.

I have not so stood for and defended the trueth, as was meet I should.

X.

I have been full of wandering desires, wicked affections, unlawful concupiscenses, evil suspitions, and surmises and inordinate lust, touching my neighbor, and that which is his.

The

THe Day is vaniſhed, and gon; ſo doth my Life vaniſh; my Life no Life.

The Night is coming on, and ſo doth Death; Death without Death.

The end, as of the Day ſo, of our Life is at hand:

We therefore, remembring this, beſeech Thee, O Lord, that the end of our Life being Chriſtian, and acceptable to Thee, without Sin, without Shame, and if it pleaſe Thee, without Pain, Thou wouldſt guid us in peace, O Lord

Lord our Lord; gathering us together under the feet of Thine Elect, when Thou wilt, and as Thou wilt, only without Shame and Sin.

GRant that we may remember the days of darkneſs, that they are many. Eccleſ. 11. 8. that we be not caſt out into utter darkneſs. S. Matth. 22. 13. and 25. 30. and that we may remember to prevent the Night, by doing ſome good.

Judgment is at hand,

Grant us, O Lord, that we may make a good good and acceptable account at the dreadful and terrible Tribunal of JESUS Christ.

IN the Night I lift up my hands toward Thy sanctuarie, and bleis the Lord. Psal. 134 2,3.

The Lord hath granted His loving kindneſs on the Day time, and in the Night seaſon will I ſing of Him, and make my praier unto the God of my life. Psal. 42:10.

As long as I live will I magnifie Thee on this manner, and lift up my hands in Thy Name. Psal. 63.5.

Let

Let my praier be ſet forth in Thy ſight as the Incenſe, and let the lifting up of my hands be an Evening ſacrifice. Pſal. 14.12.

But I turn from my wicked ways, and bewailing them, P. Iſa. 30. 15. I return to my heart; P. Iſa. 46. 8. and turn to

Thee

Thee with all my heart, Dent. 30. 2. O Thou that art the God of them that repent, ☞ Savior of sinners.

And Evening after Evening I return, with the utmost strength of my soul; and, out of the deep, my soul crieth unto Thee, Psal. 130. 1.

Lord, I have sinned against Thee, I have sinned grievously against Thee:

Forgive, forgive; alas, alas! wo worth my miserable condition:

I repent, wo is me, I repent; spare me, O Lord;

I repent,

I repent, wo is me, I repent; Help my want of Repentance.

Have pitie, ſpare me, O Lord;

Have pitie, be merciful unto me:

I ſaid, Lord be merciful unto me, heal my ſoul, for I have ſinned againſt Thee. Pſal 41.4.

Have mercie upon me, O Lord, after Thy great goodneſs; according to the multitude of Thy mercies do away mine offences. Pſal. 51.1.

Forgive my guilt,
Heal my ſores,
Take out the ſtains,
Deliver me from ſhame,
Reſcue

Rescue me from the tyrannie of sin,

And make me not an example.

DEliver me, O Lord, from my necessities; Psal. 25. 16.

Cleanse me from my secret faults; Psal. 19. 12.

Keep Thy servant also from presumptuous sins. Psal. 19. 13.

Impute not to me the wandrings of my mind; Wisd. 4. 12. nor my idle words: S. Mat. 12. 36.

Stop the black and filthie inundation of unclean & wicked thoughts.

O Lord,

O Lord, my destruction is from my self. P. Hos. 13. 9.

Whatsoever I have don amiss, graciously pardon;

Deal not with us after our sins;

Neither reward us after our iniquities. Ch. Eng. Letanie.

Mercifully look upon our infirmities, and for the glorie of Thy most Holie Name turn from us all those evils and afflictions, which to our sins, and to us for them, are most justly and worthily due.

AND, O Lord, give rest to me that am wearie; renew my strength to me that am tired with labor;

Lighten mine eies that I sleep not in death. Psal. 13.3.

Deliver me from the terrors of the Night, and from the Pestilence that walketh in darkness. Psal. 91.5,6.

Grant me wholesom sleep, and to pass this Night without fear.

Thou Keeper of Israël, who dost neither slumber nor sleep, Psal. 121.4.

Preserve me this Night from from all evil, O Lord keep my ſoul. Ver. 7.

Viſiting me with the ſalvation of Thy children:

Open my underſtanding in the Viſions of the Night. H. Job 33. 15, 16.

But, if not this, for I am not worthie,

I am not worthie,

Yet, O Lord, Thou Lover of men, let my ſleep be a reſt as from labors, ſo from ſin;

Even ſo, O Lord.

And ſleeping let me not dream of any thing, that may { offend Thee, / defile myſelf.

Let not my loins be filled with illusions. Psal. 38. 7. but rather let my reins chasten me. Ps. 16. 8.

Preserve me, without grievous fear, from the dismal sleep of sin; and lay asleep in me all earthlie and wicked imaginations.

Give me sweet sleep, free from all carnal and diabolical phancies.

Lord, restrein the malice of my never sleeping invisible enemies; and the inclination of my sinful flesh, O Thou who madest me.

Let the wings of Thy mercie shadow me. Psal. 17. 8. and 61. 4.

Raise

Raiſe me up in due time, in the hour of Praier, and grant that I may be earlie up, Pſal. 63.1. at my Praiſes and Worſhip of Thee.
